Guidelines for Evaluation	40
Postulates regarding Change	40
Application to Practice	40

8. Conditions in Pediatrics	41
Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder	41
Implications for Occupational Therapy	41
Autism	42
Implications for Occupational Therapy	43
Cerebral Palsy	43
Types of Cerebral Palsy	44
Etiology	44
Implications for Occupational Therapy	44
Developmental Delay	45
Implications for Occupational Therapy	46
Down's Syndrome	46
Implications for Occupational Therapy	47
Learning Disability	47
Cause of Learning disability	47
Implications for Occupational Therapy	49
Mental Retardation (Intellectual Disability)	49
Implications for Occupational Therapy	50
Spina Bifida	51
Implications for Occupational Therapy	52
9. Occupational Therapy Assessment in Pediatrics	53
Occupational Therapy Practice Framework (OTPF)	53
Assessment of Various Domains	53
Types of Assessment Tools	54
Instruments used by Occupational Therapist during Assessment	54
Purpose of Evaluation	54
Factors Influencing Assessment	54
10. Pediatric Occupational Therapy Techniques	55
ADL Training in Pediatrics	55
Approaches used for ADL Training	55
Adaptations and Modifications	56
Adaptations for Sensory Loss	57
Visual Impairment	57
Hearing Impairment	58
Activities to Enhance Crawling	58
Activities to Improve Letter Recognition	59
Assistive Augmentative Communication Training	59
Behavior Modification Strategies	60
Ignorance	60
Cueing	60
Reinforcements	61
